TASTING NOTES

Commented by Olivier Poussier:

Color : An intense primary purple ruby color that shines with its youth.

Nose : The nose reveals black fruits, black cherry, plum and spices. The terroir mark is provided by the charcoal and mineral smoke side. The nose remains fair and precise; the fruit keeps this greediness of reading.

Palate : The mouth is delivered with a good chewiness and density. A square and compact mouth frame for the moment. However, this texture is well enveloped by a nice fat. The tannins are more in relief without bringing austerity. It is a wine for laying down par excellence that will relax over time.

Service temperature : 59°F
